

Newsletter Editor Report:

(3/14/23)

With some hiccups, the newsletter continues to come out. .... The newsletter committee has not yet convened. I hope our committee will meet this spring and get started. ....

I have my own modest goals for the newsletter. I have worked on these and I believe they have been achieved to some extent. I welcome any and all feedback. These goals are:

- Make it as interesting, relevant, and as readable as possible, by:
  - Placing news and current events first, and placing topic of the month submissions and other reports later.
  - Soliciting and including articles on AI-Anon current events and topics of interest.
  - Using descriptive headlines, rather than headlines listing the titles of the writers.
  - Including an events calendar.
- Utilize space as efficiently as possible, and reduce the number of pages, by condensing and reducing the size of various items, including the:
  - typeface and font (to get more words on each page),
  - “masthead”,
  - mission statement,
  - table of contents,
  - subscription form,
  - list of officers,
  - Treasurer’s report.

Again I welcome any and all comments. Thank you,

David N, newsletter editor.
